Music in My Life.

Music is listened all over the world and many people can't imagine their lives without it.

I listen to music every day. Music can calm me down or give me new forces. It plays a very important role in my life. I like rock, alternative and indie music, and my favourite bands are Twenty One Pilots and My Chemical Romance. But sometimes I listen to classical music too, because it is an important part of culture. Music lessons at school give children the opportunity to learn more about this art and create their own music taste. I think every school needs to provide music lessons to the students. Many modern teens prefer aggressive music, and I like it, too. This music inspires me and gives me energy, and I suppose that every teenager would say the same.

Music is an incredible art, which is full of emotions. Everyone definitely needs music in their life.
