Part 4

Writing

Music doesn't play a huge role in my life. It usually serves as an inspiration to my creative mind.

I usually like retro music in Rock and Hip-Hop genres. One of such music is „Highway star“ by Deep Purple.

There are some classical songs that I like, such as: „Requiem“ by Mozart, „Ode to joy“ by Beethoven, „Waltz of the flowers“ by Tchaikovsky and many more.

I often listen to such music as an inspiration, a picture for my mind.

I believe music lessons at school can teach future musicians how to make good songs, the point in music and many more.

I agree with the psychologists, to be honest.

Teenagers often listen to songs about sex, drugs and violence, which sparks the same behavior in its listeners with undeveloped thoughts. I believe the music industry should be more careful in what they make, and listeners should be careful with what they listen to.
